THE SPIRIT OF LAMBUTH

Nothing adds more to the beauty of scenes than traditions that link them to the past. Lambuth has such traditions, for the spirit and ideals that have impelled its founding and its growth first took definite form in 1843 when the Memphis Conference became interested in the Memphis Conference Female Institute, which served until 1920.

In 1924, by an amendment to the old charter, its successor took its place and was named for Bishop Walter Russell Lambuth, with the hope that his consecration to the service of humanity and his unceasing efforts to bring about the brotherhood of man would live on in the institution bearing his name.

"Our best institutions are like young trees growing upon the roots of the old trunks that have crumbled away."—

Henry Ward Beecher

Through the years the new college has developed in accord with its name and its motto, "Whatsoever things are true."

This year Lambuth looks into the future more steadfastly than ever before as its spirit is carried throughout the Memphis Conference by the crusade under the leadership of its president, Dr. R. E. Womack, and Bishop U. V. W. Darlington.

May the aims and ideals which characterize the man for whom it is named and those who now guide its destiny form deeper roots as the sturdy new trunk grows steadily above them!

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The worth of a college should not be measured by its size and physical assets, but by the purposes and aims that dominate its program and by the atmosphere that pervades its campus life. In a word, the spirit of a college is the proper measure of its worth.

What is the Spirit of Lambuth? In the first place, it is the spirit of reverent inquiry. It encourages its students to seek for "whatever things are true" in all the realms of their lives and reverently follow wherever truth leads, to the end that they may be made free.

In the second place, it is the spirit of helpfulness. The college constantly strives to help worthy students find solutions not only for their financial problems, but for all the problems vitally affecting their lives. Prompted by a sense of social responsibility, the students themselves manifest in their campus and community relationships a fine spirit of service. Life-sharing is a fixed principle of conduct in our Lambuth family.

And, finally, the Spirit of Lambuth is a spirit of friendliness. One cannot walk through the campus or into the college halls without feeling this. Our alumni and former students are always glad to come back to renew friendships formed in earlier years. This is one of the richest possessions one can acquire in college—enduring friendship with kindred souls.

This is the Spirit of Lambuth—the spirit of reverent inquiry, of helpfulness and of friendliness. May each of you carry a full measure of it with you throughout all the days of your life!

Lambuth's Student Government based on a new constitution adopted in 1936, which, like our national constitution, embodies the executive, judicial and legislative departments of government, has proved quite effective this year under the leadership of Walter Thomas. The legislative department, made up of the Student Council, has been busily engaged in determining policies for the betterment of the Student Body Association. Robert Lee Sawyer, as president pro-tempore of the Student Council, has been largely responsible for the achievements of the law-making body of our Student Government.

GLEE CLUB

MISS LOUISE MERCER, Director

The Glee Club has added another beautiful oratorio to its repertoire this year. In addition to Handel's Messiah, the Glee Club offered Gounod's Redemption. The Glee Club has had a rather full season, having sung at many of the larger churches in the Conference. It played a very prominent part in the Lambuth College Crusade this year by showing many audiences throughout this section the high cultural attainment of Lambuth students.

BASKETBALL RESUME

EAGLES

Coach Cheney and Assistant Coach Webb have been working against tremendous odds this year. Basketball season was almost in full swing when they were given the job of leading two teams that have always ranked at the top of the M. V. C. Without their ability Lambuth basketball would have met with no success during the season. They were able to meet the demands that were suddenly placed on them in a way which has made every Lambuth student proud of them.

Yet even they could not have brought about the results that they did without the calibre of the men with which they worked—Lambuth has never had a team of which she could be prouder! A quintet has never gone on a basketball court with more drive. Every man was ready to put out all that he had. There was not a slacker in the bunch. At the beginning of the season it seemed that there was a lack of team work, but as the season went on and they became used to playing together, they worked smoothly together.

Lambuth's team also provided a series of thrills for their fans. They heard rumors that the Freed-Hardeman Lions were coming to Jackson for a "killing." The Eagles rose in fury. After the game the Lions were glad to say that they were able to eke out a three point victory. In the M. V. C. tournament Lambuth drew the mighty David Lipscomb Bisons, whom they had formerly beaten. At the last minute it was found that two varsity men, Mills and White, could not play, and two men from the freshman squad were recruited. In the face of these odds the Eagles forced the Bisons into an extra period which they lost by only one point. Lambuth also placed one man, Charles Phelps, on the all M. V. C. team. Lambuth's letter men for the year were: Captain Marcus Gurley, Bob White, Charles Phelps, Buddy McDaniel, James Parham, Webster Kelley, and Buddie Mills.

EAGLETTES

While the Eaglettes lost the Mississippi Valley Conference Championship after holding it for four successive years, they stamped themselves as being one of the gamest teams that ever wore the Blue and White.

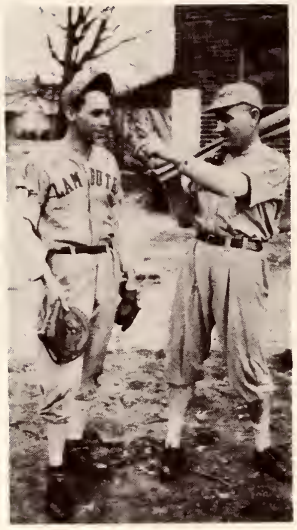

From the first of the season it seemed that bad luck hounded the Eaglettes. Bill Martin, stellar guard, was out with a twisted knee. At a crucial moment Inez McBryde was taken ill. The Eaglettes were thus deprived of two of their strongest players in several games.

Yet such a handicap never daunted the courage of this plucky team. They courageously faced some of the country's best women's teams without flinching. The stronger the opposition the harder they fought. They held the Galveston team of all American to a ten point margin in two games. This looked good in comparison with the 33 to 3 drudging that Galveston gave Draughon's Business College.

The Eaglettes had the same heart breaking experience at the tournament that the Eagles had. They played the rangy Draughon's team in the finals. For four quarters the two teams raced basket for basket, the regular game ending with the score tied 30-30. That three minute play-off was fatal, the Mississippi sextette scoring and then holding the ball, winning 34 to 33. Letter winners were: Captain Louise Haskins, Mildred Spivey, Jimmie Dew, Maxine Burnette, Onorine Burnette, Fannye Barlow, Bill Martin, and Inez McBryde.

BASEBALL

Just Before the Game

Prospects for a winning nine are the best in years for Lambuth. They have a veteran battery, Patt Webb, pitcher and Junior Thomas and Charles Butler, catchers. Also out for mound duties are "Chick" DeBree and Ford Haynes.

The infield finds a veteran combine of Kelley, Phelps, and White returning, while a battle royal is expected for outfield positions. Promising freshman recruits are Fussell, Ward, and Pitts.

Games are booked with Vanderbilt, Delta State, and the usual MVC lineup of teams.

TENNIS

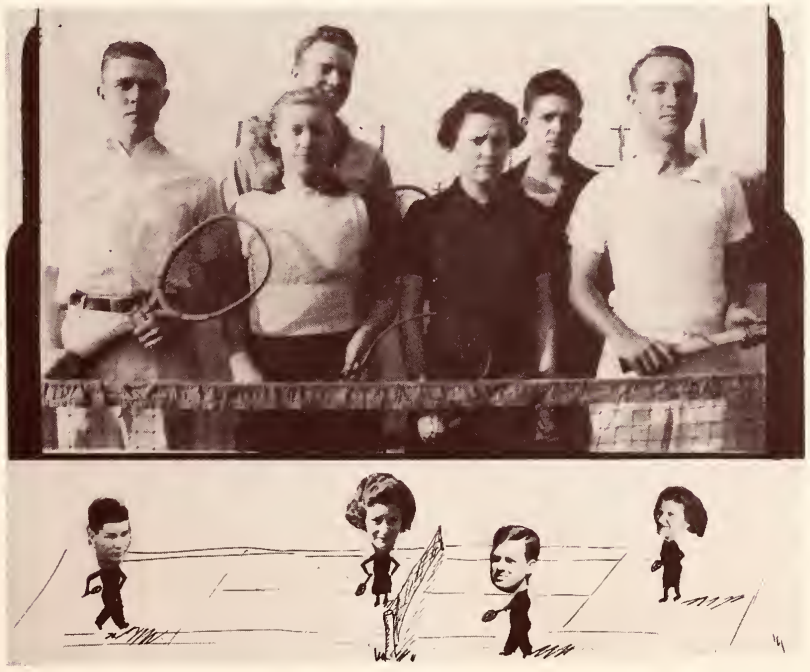

RESUME

Lambuth has always had good tennis teams. In fact, the Lambuth net forces have captured the MVC flag for seven years. This year's prospects are good with practically all of last year's group returning.

Games are carded with Vanderbilt, David Lipscomb, Freed-Hardeman, Alabama State, and several other tentative games have been booked.

Letter winners returning: Walter Thomas, Charles Phelps, James Hillis Allen, Jimmie Dew, Marjorie Swift, and Bill Martin.

LOWER: Buddy McDaniel, Estelle Martin, T. W. Doty, Jimmie Dew.

PEP CLUB

FIRST ROW: Mary Evelyn Wiseman, Robbie Steele, Martin DeBree, Willard Wildbur, Coffman Mitchell
SECOND ROW: Mary Lou Thomas, Margaret Bell, Johnnie DeBree, Thelma Wallick, Edna Brittain
THIRD ROW: Ed Baker, Martha Nance, Evelyn Johnson, Ned Cooper, Margaret Phillips, Mary Arthur Hilliard
FOURTH ROW: Leon Holmes, Mary Frances Roebke, Frances Fisher, Vernon Mischke, Ruth Shollenberger, Harold Tillman, Eloise Pope, Edith Womack, Frances Tanksley
FIFTH ROW: Ford Haynes, Jane Cosner, Jane Peters, Thomas Griffin, Rhea Smith, Jack Duncan, Harlan Lett, Imogene Key, Walter Thomas

LAMBUTH'S PEP CLUB

The Lambuth Pep Club was organized to lead the student support of our ball teams. It has succeeded in this purpose in a manner that has brought favorable comment from groups not only on the campus but off of it as well. The students have placed their loyal support behind the work of this organization. They have felt that it represented them both on home and foreign courts. The Pep Club, however, has not only aided in backing sports, but it has also started a general feeling of school consciousness that has been felt in other fields of school activity. It is hoped that this fine spirit of cooperation will continue throughout the years to come.

EXHIBITION of ODD SPECIMENS

One day, when the sun was shining brightly and the air was balmy with spring, "Kid" Garrett and "E." Crowe took up their fishing tackle (cameras) and adjourned to that lake of all lakes, the Lambuth fish pond. It seemed to be a good day because one bite came after another, but these fish were of some rather strange varieties. You will see pictured here in these pages some of the odd specimens that were captured.

WHERE IT BELONGED—Judge (to amateur yegg)—"So they caught you with this bundle of silverware. Whom did you plunder?"

Yegg—"Two fraternity-houses, your honor."

Judge (to sergeant)—"Call up the downtown hotels and distribute this stuff."

DEFINITIONS

All the world's a stage and all the women are leading men.

Puppy love is the beginning of a dog's life.

A sensible looking girl is not as sensible as she looks because a sensible girl has more sense that to look sensible.

A door knob is something a revolving door goes around without.

And then there was the old maid who kept twin beds in her room because she thought she had twice as much chance of finding a man under them.

Mr. Stalvey: Before taking this examination, has anyone any questions to ask?

Patt Webb: What course is this?

"My reasoning may not be sound,
But by the powers above,
I'd hate to meet the full-grown hound,
If this is puppy love."

C. Phelps: "Why are you making that gurgling noise?"
M. Arthur Hilliard: "I'm trying to swallow that line you're throwing."

C. Butler: "Didn't I get my last hair cut in this shop?"
Barber: "I think not, sir. We've only been in business two years."

And there was the woman who sent her son after extract of beef, and he came home with a bottle of milk.

For years the two sexes have been racing for supremacy. Now they have settled down to neck and neck.

"Little" Robert Cooper was making himself a nuisance in the big shop which was holding its annual sale. Nothing, it seemed, would suit him, and the unfortunate shop-assistant was beginning to get a little weary.

"Don't you have anything ready-made that will fit me?" Cooper asked at last.

"Yes; the umbrellas and the handkerchiefs are downstairs, sir," the clerk replied.

America—the land of infinite variety—not only carves its immortals on mountainsides, but squeezed thirty-nine of them on a special postage stamp.

Winslow: (to the occupants of his car) "That's a nice-sized little town we're coming to, wasn't it?"

And there's that sharp and idle curiosity that possesses you when you find a piece about two inches has been clipped out of the paper.

Earth flew in all directions as Bland crimson-faced and a bit disgusted attempted to strike the golf ball. "Gosh," he blurted out to Watlington, his partner, "the worms will think there's an earthquake."
"I don't know," replied Watlington, "the worms around this institution are crafty. I'll bet most of them are hiding under that ball for safety."

A secret—something you tell one person at a time.

Dr. Cordrey (to his star Physics pupil): "Mr. Hammond, name a great time saver."
Hammond (reminiscently): "Love at first sight."

In presenting these personalities in pictures
we trust that each endearing memory may be made more lasting and more real

May we share with you the justified pride in the success of this year's

This completes our tour, and, as you take a backward glance, we hope that you may get a panoramic view of the past year at Lambuth College. If we have succeeded in selecting representative scenes and presenting them to you in a comprehensive fashion, the aim of our tour will have been achieved.
